Subject: Coding from Outreach Budget

Hi Stephanie,

We have received an invoice for the Commissionaire coverage during the United Way, Rocking the Big House concert. The amount of the invoice is $2,368.05 (including tax). Wayne has suggested we use money from the Outreach budget to cover this invoice. When you have a second, can you please confirm the correct coding and that we have the necessary fund available? I believe the coding starts with 40103.402.

Thank you very much for your help!

I have discussed with Scott and have created tickets for the raffle for the tickets

I have packages of ten to sell or hand out for people to sell.

Each package is labelled A-T we will need to keep track of who we issue tickets to so we can ensure that they are all collected before the draw.

Just come to my office for tickets and you can sign them out from Rob or I.

I've been working on a database but, unfortunately, most acts are fairly obscure today. These would be the more famous 3 with the year that they performed here.

Billy O'Connor (1950s. For more info about his significance see <https://www.thecanadianencyclopedia.ca/en/article/billy-oconnor-emc>)
Peter Appleyard (1951 & 1962)
Tommy Hunter & the Travelling Men (regularly during the 1970s)

Gordon Lightfoot (Rumoured to have played here in April 1970, but we have not confirmed that. Emails to his management have not been answered, so it would be risky to state that he played here.)

Hey dave,

I spoke with wayne and john and this was our thinking was this. The united way will put up some construction tape to cordon off access to the museum, and then asking the mobile commissionaires to make more frequent stops at the museum and sit there for a couple minutes to establish a security presence. There will also be volunteer police on the corner of sir john a and king, and police will be there as well.

Also, if people are showing up before you are closed and are looking to use the bathroom, the united way will have bathrooms in the parking lot, and you can send them that way.

Hi Guys,

Is there any chance we could have a couple of Commissionaires on the museum grounds on Saturday night during the concert? We're concerned that, with the latest media controversy, that we might have some negative interactions here. We plan to close the museum at 4:00pm that day (otherwise we'll become a public washroom).

I understand that United Way may also be taking measures by increasing police presence.

Just trying to be proactive.

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks. The FPM Board discussed this event at their meeting while I was away. Their decision is that we (the museum and FPM) cannot ask anyone to come in to provide security due to liability concerns. If, however, anyone wants to come in at their own discretion, that is another thing.

Re clean up, I'm sure that the event organizers are considering this. I doubt any inmates will be transported here on the weekend, as their staff supervision will likely be off duty. We may have to live with a bit of a mess until Monday.

Thanks

Subject: Tours on the 13th

Thanks, [REDACTED] and Dave, for helping out with special tours on the 13th of September. We have two tours, one starting at 5/5:30 and the other at 6pm at the museum and ending at the mattress factory. We would like to invite both of you to stay for the dinner that will be at the Mattress Factory 7pm onwards.

Kyle is back next week I believe and we can work with you on the details and the route.

Dave, I also wanted to confirm the sponsor reception starts at the Museum at 5pm - dinner invitees will get a glass of sparkling wine or water before heading on the tour. We will set up a tent and tables just outside the door to the museum and encourage people to visit. We have a liquor license for this FYI

More details to follow!
Thanks so much

Hello,

Much appreciated. We expect that it will be very difficult to avoid people coming to our lawn since the entire north perimeter is wide open to the Prison for Women property.

Anyhow, I will be speaking to Kyle Lawlor and our Commissionaires at our HQ as well.

If there is anything that I can do to assist, please let me know.

Hi Dave
Good to hear from you.

We certainly have this in mind as we develop our plans.

- We have requested a road closure which will help. We are required to keep the sidewalk open for thoroughfare and will escort people through but will not permit them to stay
- We are also planning barricades to avoid people spilling into your space. John is copied on this and will work with you on the best positioning for these

We'll continue to work with you on these and any other issues. Thanks for your support!

Good Morning Bhavana,

I hope all is well with you. Exciting times ahead!

I am writing to ask the concert planning committee to please consider including the Penitentiary Museum property in their security planning for the event. We understand that the Doornekamp's will permit additional parking on their Prison for Women property adjacent to ours. We are also hearing through social media that many people who couldn't get tickets are planning to occupy our grounds in order to hear the show.

We are simply not equipped for this (i.e. Lack of adequate washroom facilities; graffiti abatement; garbage control etc. etc.).

Of course, we wish to support the cause.

Regards,
Dave

Hello everyone,

I have attached a slightly updated schedule. None of the shifts have changed. I just wanted to clarify the hours to be worked when more than 1 casual is on duty.

Also, Saturday, September 14 promises to be a bit of a challenge, as that is the date of the United Way "Rockin' the Big House" Rock concert at KP. Some 2500 tickets have been sold-out, and FAR more people than that are disappointed that they were unable to get them.

Word is spreading on social media that a possible solution is to occupy the museum grounds where people can still hear the concert.

That places us and our building at potential risk. I will be speaking to the organizers and asking that they include us in their security planning. I will also ask our volunteers to consider helping out if they can.

My understanding is that the gates open at 4:30pm and that there are 4 or 5 acts performing so we can expect it ending sometime around 10:30 or 11:00. They will also be serving alcohol in KP, so you know what to expect.

I will update as more information is received.

Thanks

Thanks for the input dave; I actually have a committee meeting today, and I'll bring up these things again. I have discussed with them before about the public concert piece, and that's the angle they are going for, but I think they just boil it down to that. I do like the idea of a concert display there, and will bring that up today to (will mention lightfoot and hunter).

They want CBC to come in and do a piece, so maybe the concert angle is the piece that we could go on.

Hey Kyle,
Exciting stuff! I've been watching the media about this and I have some concerns.

██████████ and ██████████ keep referring to this is the "first concert ever at KP" [...they keep dropping 'public concert']. Of course it is FAR from the 'first concert'. In fact, concerts have been performed here since the 1800s and for about 17 years now I have had a display about some concerts at KP in the 1950s. I also just confirmed that Lightfoot played here on April 11, 1970 and that ██████████ was a regular, amongst many others. Of course, these shows were for the inmates and staff and their friends and families .

Anyway can we communicate that to the Rockin' team?

...or maybe the display over there should be about concerts at KP?

Dave

The hip's team is helping out a lot and they have a security group in mind, but I don't know their names. Could be the group that you're referring to.

If they are looking for security, I would recommend that they find out who provides that for the Belleville Empire Rockfest. We went last year and they were VERY professional and thorough. The last thing we want is idiots covering the place in graffiti!

They aren't necesarrily looking for something that you sell, but items that you think may be representative of the history of KP that could recreate and sell.

Also, what would your thoughts on putting up a display from the museum in some of spaces? They are looking to have some special VIP spaces, and are thinking about doing a dinner in the mattress shop, and thought bringing in some pieces might be a good way to highlight our history, and we might be able to get some new friends members though it.

Man charged in bank heist was robber just out of jail

A man with a history of committing armed robberies who had just got out of prison is back behind bars. Yves Groleau is charged with committing two bank heists in Montreal just before Christmas while living at a halfway house. The 61-year-old got out of a federal penitentiary just weeks before. He made his first appearance before a judge on Boxing Day at the Montreal courthouse. He faces 13 new charges. (...) Groleau was arrested alone shortly after the second robbery. When he was charged, he listed Maison Essor, a halfway house on Lajeunesse St., as his home address. It became his home sometime after Nov. 7, when Groleau appeared before the Parole Board of Canada to ask that the suspension of the statutory release he qualified for in March be lifted. It was a process Groleau is not unfamiliar with: according to his parole records, he has seen previous releases be revoked or suspended several times. (...) Groleau is serving a sentence that began in December 1995 for a seven-year prison term he received after he pleaded guilty to a series of armed robberies carried out on the South Shore. He saw that seven-year sentence gradually be increased to his current 24-year sentence after having committed a long series of offences while out on parole or other forms of releases. (...) Manitoba MLA wants poems by convicted killer removed from Parliamentary Poet Laureate website

A member of the Manitoba legislature wants the Canadian heritage minister to remove two poems from the Parliamentary Poet Laureate website that were written by the killer of an Indigenous woman. Nahanni Fontaine says the inclusion of works by Stephen Brown, including one about a prostitute, constitutes "blatant disrespect" for Brown's victim as well as missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls. Brown, who changed his name from Steven Kummerfield, was convicted of manslaughter in the 1995 beating death of Pamela George, a First Nations woman. Seizure of contraband at Dorchester Penitentiary - Medium security unit

On January 2, 2020, staff members confiscated one package containing contraband in the medium security unit at Dorchester Penitentiary. This seizure is the result of the combined efforts of correctional officers. The contraband seized includes 21 Nicotine patches. The total institutional value of this seizure is estimated at $2,600. The Correctional Service of Canada (CSC) is heightening measures to prevent contraband from entering its institutions in order to help ensure a safe and secure environment for everyone. CSC also works in partnership with the police to take action against those who attempt to introduce contraband into correctional institutions. CSC has set up a telephone tip line for all federal institutions so that it may receive additional information about activities relating to security at CSC institutions. These activities may be related to drug use or trafficking that may threaten the safety and security of visitors, inmates and staff members working at CSC institutions. The toll-free number, 1-866-780-3784, helps ensure that the information shared is protected and that callers remain anonymous. News Release / Communiqué \(2020-01-03\)

Four inmates accused of attack inside Burnside jail lose bid for more freedoms

Four of the 15 inmates accused of viciously beating another inmate at the Central Nova Scotia Correctional Facility have had their request to move out of a highly restricted unit of the jail turned down by a judge. (...) They said their detention in a reintegration unit with intensive direct supervision has deprived them of their liberty because they've been confined to their cells for between 22 and 24 hours a day. They said it severely limits their time to do things like call their families, contact their lawyers, get exercise and enough food. (...) The four accused have been in the unit ever since the brutal beating and stabbing of a 46-year-old inmate on Dec. 2, 2019, except for Cox, who was recently moved to a close confinement unit following the discovery of contraband in his cell. The attack happened in North 3, a general population unit, where at least 15 inmates formed a human wall to stop guards from getting to the victim of the attack. (...) Ross said the attack has led to a serious staff shortage. He said around 18 staff members are calling in sick or refusing to work each day under occupational health and safety rules because of the security risk they feel from being short-staffed or from the inmates themselves. Q & A with Scott Harris, regional deputy commissioner for Correctional Service Canada

More than 2,500 offenders were incarcerated at four Kingston-area federal institutions in 2019, with 171 others living in the community under supervision. Managing those offenders were 2,341 Correctional Service Canada employees, including correctional officers, parole officers, support staff and management personnel, inside those institutions, at other offices in Kingston and at regional headquarters on Union Street, making the correctional service one of the largest employers in the area. Scott Harris, the regional deputy commissioner for Ontario and Nunavut, is in charge of the institutions in this area. He has been in his position since the fall of 2017 and before that was the commissioner of the Atlantic region for about a year. He has a bachelor's degree in criminology from the University of Alberta and a master of divinity in restorative justice from Queen's University. He's been with CSC since 1995, starting out as a correctional officer. Kingston Whig Standard (2020-01-03)

Saisie de 120 000$ de drogue au pénitencier de Renous

Quelque 1100 grammes de hachisch et une once d'ecstasy ont été saisis dans le pénitencier fédéral à sécurité maximale de Renous le 17 décembre, a annoncé les autorités, lundi. Cette saisie - d'une valeur de 120 000$ sur le marché noir - est le résultat des efforts concertés des agents correctionnels et agents du renseignement de sécurité. La police a été informée et l'établissement mène une enquête. Le Service correctionnel du Canada dispose d'un certain nombre d'outils pour prévenir l'introduction de drogue dans ses établissements. Parmi ces outils, on retrouve des détecteurs ioniques et des chiens détecteurs de drogue pour la fouille des édifices, des biens personnels, des détenus et des visiteurs. Aucun autre détail n'a été rendu public. L'Acadie Nouvelle
